WINEMAKING

For aromatic complexity, grapes are destemmed and left in contact with the juice for three hours before pressing. Fermentation and aging take place in a combination of vessels. 63% stainless steel, 21% used French oak barrels, 10% French acacia barrels, and 6% concrete egg tank. One third of the wine's volume underwent malolactic conversion.

TASTING NOTE

The wine opens on the nose with zesty citrus, honeysuckle, and white peach notes. A rounded attack and a smooth mouthfeel bring these notes to the palate. The finish is bright and fresh.
